About Me

I am a passionate Full Stack Developer, with a strong background in a similar position in which I honed mostly my .NET skills, as well as expanded and refined my SQL & Database Design knowledge. I have worked on languages and tools such as Python, Java and Unity through my personal projects

Being a Technology based Sales Representative at Plaisio Computers, as well as having a huge interest in keeping up with new technologies, I have both a broad and deep understanding of hardware in the PC and Networking space.

My biggest ambition is learning and understanding as much as I possibly can with every aspect of technology, whether it's hardware, software and everything in-between.
